

A young shepherd boy called Suke the youngest of three brothers is sent to rescue the family's sheep that have been caught in a storm.	The white stallion feels the mountain wind and breaks free from his captor.
Suke rescues an orphaned foal and takes it home where he nurses it to health.	The wounded stallion returns to Suke and dies in his old master's arms.
Suke tames the white stallion and enters him in the great race.	Suke dreams of riding the white stallion once more.
Suke is warned not to beat the Dark Lord in the race.	Suke makes a violin from a rib bone and some hairs from the dead horse.
Suke ignores the warning and the white stallion wins the race	Suke plays the white stallion's song on his violin.
The Dark Lord imprisons and breaks the white stallion in revenge for his humiliating loss.	The music drives the Dark Lord mad.